SENATE SUB-COMMITTEE IN NEW ORLEANS.

Louisiana Returning Board---That Maine Legislature---Other Late Telegrams.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 18.- In the Senate sub-committee investigation to-day Peter Williams testified regarding the election in the Seventh ward in 1876. Moore, who was declared elected in this ward, told Williams that the clerk in the Packard Legislature used to answer for members when the roll was called. Moore gave witness to understand that he could tell a tale about Kellogg's election that would be useful to Democrats, out of which they could make a pile of money. They agreed to this, but Moore being offered a place in the custom house, which he accepted would not testify to the contrary. Blanchard, who is now dead, gave Moore three hundred blank registration papers to use in the Seventh ward. Moore said the ward went Democratic but was counted for Republicans after the election. The registration books were taken to the Custom House and the names were erased.

D. H. Manier, United States Supervisor in the Seventh Ward in the election of 1876 testified: "The election was very fair, and no trouble occurred and no protest was entered, yet poll No. 3 was thrown out by the returning board. Nearly five hundred votes were cast at this poll, and about one hundred and seventy majority for the Democrats." The witness said returns had all been made according to law.

That Maine Legislature.

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 18.—The excitement over the rumored counting out of the Republican legislature runs high, and a number of prominent Republicans are in the city. The Governor and Council assembled in the State House at 4 o'clock this evening, when the Governor informed the committee that the returns would not be considered open, nor in no sense would he allow any amendment or corrections under the State until the Committee of Council on Elections reports the result of the canvass to the Governor and Council, and that there would be twenty days from that time for any legal correction to be made. The changes of the returns are on technical grounds, it is rumored, which would give the Democrats and Greenbackers nineteen Senators, the Republicans twelve. The vote as cast gives the Republicans nineteen; all others twelve.

Foreign Industries.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Post this morning on official authority, denies that England ultimatum was sent to the Post, and denies that the channel flows ordered to be in readiness to proceed from Malta to the Turkish waters in four days. It denies that England demanded from Turkey a cession of part in the Black Sea, and denies that a league of Balkan provinces has been formed. The former confederate cruiser Sqenandoah has sunk off the Island of Socotra in the Indian ocean. The date of the disaster is unknown. Most of the crew were drowned. The Shenandoah belonged to Sultan of Zanzibar.

The Spining mills of Kirk Caldy, Scotland have begun work on full time having been operating on short time for nearly two years. The linen trade has also improved so much that all the power loom factories are in motion, which has not been the case for three years.

Moody Preaching in his own Church

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Dwight L. Moody, the Evangelist, appeared to be as nearly as big a man as General Grant in Chicago to-day. After a long absence from the city he preached his first sermon at his church on the North Side, which was filled to overflowing both morning and night, and thousands were turned away. Mr. Moody will remain a short time with his family, and then goes to St. Louis for the winter.

Indians and Indian Affairs.

DENNER, November 18.—Las Pruos despach of the 15th says; Ourays power to-day is trembling in the balance and within a few days we shall witness the final success on his part, in establishing his absolute authority over the tribe on his virtual dethronement and ascendancy of war faction. He has succeeded in exalting from the hostilities to appear but as to giving testimony and all further proceeding they decide for themselves. Sowerwack testified, but lied from beginning to end. General Adams having put the question: "were you in your house on Grand river." He answered, no. Sowerwack was then discharged, and Adams made the following speech to Ouray: "The last answer was not true, I did stop in Sowerwack's tent, and there we had council from eleven o'clock until six in the morning. Sawerwack was present and with others was fully coguizant of what was being done and to-day he came here and says he does not know anything for that reason I believe he has not spoken the truth nor does he wish to speak the truth. I believe also that none of them wish to speak the truth, and therefore, it is almost unnecessary to go any further. They have refused to mention the name of a single Indian, while they well know the names of all them. I now present the situation to you so that you can recommend some other course, whereby we may execute the laws of the government. The government wants us to ascertain who were engaged in the difficulties at White river. We want the names of the guilty parties, and if you think we cannot find out who they were we had better go home." Auray replied: "I cannot force them to say what they do not wish. I brought them here that they might speak for themselves." He afterwards added: "Show me any act of the law by which a man may be compelled to convict himself?" Ouray afterward acknowledged he was afraid of assassination.

Diptheria's Ravages in Russia.

LONDON, November 15.—A Berlin dispatch to the Times says: Diphtheria, which has made great ravages in Russia, seems now to be gaining more and more ground. The disease, says the Novoe Vremga, has attained such frightful proportions in some regions that the percentage of mortality exceeds that of the births."

In the small district of Mirgored, where the epidemic has been raging since 1875, 414 persons succumbed to the disease in 1876; in 1871, 1,308. In Odesea since May last 76 per cent. of the children have died from diptheria, and in Stavropol, in the course of four months, one-half of the infant population fell victims to the disease. In Kisheneff and in the vicinity of Kieff and Poltava the epidemic has been raging for the last two years without interruption. In the village of Kaploonofka, in the government of Kharkoff, fifty children did in the course of two weeks. In the hamlet nf Nakemebka more than two hundred infants have been carried away by the disease since January last in addition to a large number of adults. In the village of Tamorofka not one child has escaped the epidemic. The Mattopol district trict showed an average daily deathroll of ten. The Novoe Vremya adds a long list of places where diphtheria is raging in the same frightful degree and even worse. More than eleven vast districts are afflicted with the disease. The mortality both of the youthful and adult population is so enormous that the Government has appointed a special commission, under M. Karel, Physician in Ordinary to the Emperor, to inquire into the causes of the epidemic, and has issued strict injunctions to the local authorities about the measures to be adopted for the arrest and extinction of the disease.

LATE NEWS NOTES.

Ex-Governor Seymour will be '70 years old next May.

Bayard Taylor's library is shortly to be sold at auction in New York. It is small and miscellaneous, containing some not very common books of travel.

The report of Jesse James, the train robber's, capture in Kansas is denied, and his death is still doubtful, although Cummings, who has been captured, says the report is true.

Arthur Sullivan goes to Boston on Thursday of this week to prepare for the performance of "The Prodigal Son," with the Handel and Haydn society on Sunday, the 23d instant.

The Princess of Wales and the Duchess of Edinburgh have kissed and made up. The former has presented her sister-in-law with four magnificent dresses, worth more than $5,000 each.

Memorial services in honor of the late General Hooker took place at the Music Hall, Boston, Sunday in the presence of an imposing military and civic assembly. The formal exercises consisted of singing and prayer and an oration by the Rev. W. H. Cudworth late chaplin of the Massachusetts infantry.

The Richmond, Virginia, Light Infantry Blues, whose organization dates back to 1792, held a meeting night before last and decided to participate in the unveiling ceremonies of the Thomas statue at Washington, on Wednesday. The company left Richmond last night under the command of Captain John S. Wise, son of the late Governor Henry A. Wise.

The State debt readjusters of Petersburg, Va., had a demonstration night before last in honor of their success in the recent election. Some private residences were illuminated. The procession hated at the Center market house, where Captain J. H. Neil, colored, was called to the stand and introduced the speakers of the evening. General William Mahone, Colonel Wm. E. Cameron and others spoke in congratulatory terms of their victory.

Hon. Montgommery Blair, in a letter to the New York Sun contends that the defeat of the Democrats in New York and "the simultaneous defection in Pennsylvania" are due to deeper causes than those commonly stated. Mr. Kelly's bolt, he assumes, was in consequence of the directions from without, from parties who had a much deeper reason for wishing the indirect defeat of Mr. Tilden than any which the friends of Mr. Gumbleton (the removed New York city official) could supply. Notwithstanding Mr. Tilden carried so largely the popular vote in the South, Mr. Blair does not hesitate to declare that "it was Tilden's anti-Southern claims letter" which disaffected the Southern politicians generally towards him in 1876, and they surrendered his election for that reason. Very many will not agree in this view—for it can hardly be supposed that there is a Northern politican of any party who would venture to take a different position from that of Mr. Tilden in the premises. Mr. Blair says further that the hostility of the Southern politicians and their Northern allies to Tilden ever since is due to the same cause.

Election of a Bishop.

The special council of the Episcopal Diocese of Louisiana, which met in New Orleans last Thursday, unanimously elected Rev. J. N. Galleher, rector of Zion Church, New York, as bishop of the diocese to succeed the late Bishop Wilmer. Mr. Galleher was formerly rector of Trinity church, New Orleans, where he was very popular. His acceptance of the new office is not assured.

SCALDED WITH LEAD.

A BRUTAL PLUMBER SCALDS A LITTLE BOY WITH LEAD.

"There are Fathers who Would Return your Compliment With a Cold Dose of the Same Metal."

New York Herald.

Little Walter Davidson, a boy of six years, on Friday evening played with some other children in front of James Walsh's plumbing shop at No. 385 on Third avenue. Their pastime seemed to annoy the proprietor, for he suddenly appeared at the window with a ladle full of molten lead which it is charged he threw at the little ones. The boy, Walter, received some of the burning metal on his face and cheeks and a part fell on his clothes, where it cooled and hardened into tiny globules. When he came home his mother went to Walsh to demonstrate with him when, according to her statement, the man said he would do it again, that he would do it to her and would be prepared to give her husband a warm reception if she sent him. Mrs. Davidson had Walsh arrested, and he was produced before Justice Murray in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday.

"There are many fathers," said his Honor to the prisoner, "who would return your compliment of warm led with a cold dose of the same metal. For my part, I shall commit you for six months, or require one thousand dollars bail from you to keep the peace for that period."

HANGED ON A TRAPIZE.

An Athlete's Terrible Fate---Dying While the Multitude Cheered.

NEW BRITIAN, Conn. Nov. 16.—I read lately in your journal an interesting article, recalling the death of Sam Patch, and would like to offer a reminiscene of a similar foolhardy feat. Some thirty years ago an American named Scott, after diving from the tallest mashead of ships into the waters of the various rivers in England, undertook to leap from a scaffold erected on Waterloo bridge, London, into the Thames. Many thousands of lookers-on lined the bridge, wharves and banks of the Thames and Scott's friends passed the hat around for contributions previous to his leap. It was a cold bleak and frosty day. Straggling pieces of ice were seen floating under Waterloo Bridge, and jostled the boat containing Scott's wife and friends, who were in waiting to pick up the adventurous diver from the water.

After some delay, Scott appeared on the platform or scaffold erected above the bridge, and went through a sort of gymnastic performance, as was his custom before making a leap, with various ropes arranged something like a trappeze. The ill-fated man, it was said, had been drinking heavily of liquor with his friends during the morning, which, if true, was no doubt the cause of his end. After numerous turns and twists around his neck, and literally strangled himself to death. The gaping crowd raved and clapped their hands in the vehemence of their delight, thinking the hanging a part of the performance. But when some time had elapsed, and Scott's body had ceased its vibrations, a thrill of terror and self reproach took possession of those nearest the scffold, and scores of willing hands tore the rope and its ghastly burden from its fastenings. It was too late. Poor Scott, in his attempts to amuse the multitude, had taken his own life.

A team of fast horses carried the body to the nearest hospital, and everything was done by medical skill to resuscitate it, but it was unavailing, for the vital spark had fled. Like his predecessor. Sam Patch, Scott, a truly wonderful diver and swimmer, had died in performing a foolhardy feat to amuse the crowd. Much sympathy was shown for the poor wife, who while the plauditis of the multitude were ringing in her ears, witnessed his terrible death struggle, and was unable to save him from the cruel fate.

Imprisoned in a Dome.

Two young ladies were imprisoned for half a day on the dome of the St. Louis court house last week. They had gone up to the top counting the steps, after the manner of a woman, and after enjoying the prospect had found that they could not open a door leading to the stairway. After six hours of anxiety and weariness one of them remembered a device resorted to by the heroine of her favorite novel.

She wrote a few words on paper, clamped the slip under the blade of her pen-knife, and tossed it into she street. A young man picked up the knife and read these words, written on the tag in a delicate hand: "We are fastened in the dome! For heaven's sake get us out!" He showed the signal of distress to the janitor. "Mein Gott und Himmell!" exclaimed that worthy man; "dose pooty gals up dere all dese times!" He rushed up the winding stairs as fast as his legs would carry him, and reaching the top, opened the small door leading to the cupola. The girls received him with tears of joy, and their gratitude may have added a kiss or two. They are now anxious to find out what is the color of the eyes of the young man who picked up the knife, to wit: their noble preserver.

"States, Not Men."

Philadelphia Times.

A prominent Democrat, hitherto closely affiliated with Randall, made the significant remark last evening that feeling was changing from Mr. Tilden to ex-Governor Seymour to such an extent that it might be called actual revolution. "The Bayard boom does not meet with the Seymour men's approval," he said, on the ground that States are wanted now, not statesmen. We want States, not men."

"You think that Seymour will take the nomination?" the speaker was asked.

"Yes, he won't refuse it now."

"Why not?"

"If you can rely on reports that his intimate friends are circulating. They all say—"

"Who are they?"

"That's a hard question to answer. His nephew is most interested in it. You know that Horatio Seymour, Jr., ran ahead of his ticket for State Engineer in New York. He did not want to run, but he did, and turned out to be the only Democrat elected whose majority was returned by the Republicans."

Grant and the School Children.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—General and Mrs. Grant will take their departure for Galena on Wednesday afternoon. In December they will return and remain three days, a public engagement having been entered into for each day. From here the ex-President will journey Eastward. Fifty thousand school children and about twenty thousand other children and adults passed in review before General Grant at the Exposition building to-day.

GRANT AND THE NICARAGUAN CANAL.

The Movement to Make the General the President of the Company.

N. Y. Star.

General Grant's name seems to be indissoluably connected with the question of inter-oceanic canal communication. A gentleman, an American resident of Paris, is on his way to this country with an offer from the Rothschilds concerning the canal. The name of this gentleman is not ascertained. Those knowing it are not at liberty to give it publicity. The estimated cost of the canal by the Nicaraugan route is one hundred million dollars. The gentleman referred to will arrive in New York next week or the latter part of this. He brings letters of credit from the Rothschilds authorizing him to subscribe to the Nicaraguan canal thirty-three million of dollars—one third of the estimated cost—provided General Grant assumes the presidency of the company.

That provision runs through everything in relation to this great project. Numbers of speculators have since the so-called canal congress at Paris addressed communications to the Nicaraguan government asking for concessions to construct a canal by the Nicaragua route. That government has, however, made known to responsibie parties its willingness to grant every concession that can, with reason, be asked, provided the company to be formed is not for speculation, but for the accomplishment of the work, and especially if General Grant is at the head. "The fact of the offer of the Rothschilds has beenknown to President Hayes. The administration has taken great interest in the project and will offer every facility to General Grant for the conduct of definite negotiations with Nicaragua. The State department will assist him in every way possible. If General Grant should desire a United States vessel in which to visit Nicaragua personally on this business, it will be given him. It is not thought, however, that he would desire this accommodation.

A gentleman who is closely identified with the Nicaragua project was asked by a reporter of this paper today if he thought that it would take material shape

"Undoubtedly," was the reply. The offer from Paris settles that. I think that within two weeks this matter will chyrstalize. In that time a company will be formed and all the stock will be subscribed and work ready to be put underway.

Star.—Who will be at the head of the company?

Answer.—General Grant, I believe. I have no doubt that he will accept the Presidency as soon as he is convinced that the company is to be a substantial one, with no speculative or stock jobbing feature in it. He has said as much. He has been almost from the start in this country thoroughly identified with this work. Nothing would please him better than to see it accomplished, and he will aid it in any way that he can.

Star.—How about the presidency of the United States?

Answer.—I am satisfied that General Grant is not desirous of a future in the presidential chair. I would be sorry to see so good a man put on the gridiron again. But that is neither here nor there. I: the people will make him President that would not at all interfere in the meantime with his putting the Nicaraguan canal well underway; and I believe that he will do it as soon as he is convinced of the fact that the company to be formed is honest in its efforts, and has that substantial quality necessary to a successful prosecution of the work.

The South Disgusted with Politics.

Washington Star.

General Fitzhugh, formerly doorkeeper of the House of Representatives, has returned to the city from Texas. He was met to-day a Star reporter. In response to the inquiry as to politics in the South, especially in Texas, he said:

"The simple truth of the matter—I speak with especial reference to Texas, but I believe the feeling is widespread—is that there is a disgust with politics. We have fought so long and under such repeated mismanagement, that we are totally disgusted. In Texas this feeling has been augmented by the course of the last Democratic Legislature. Everybody is disgusted both as regards national and local politics.

Star. Are the people of Texas looking much to the next Presidential contest?

F. No. I repeat they are disgusted. The extra session disgusted them, and everything else tends in the same direction.

Star. Are they down for the

GRANT BOOM?

F. Not exactly. The have followed the lead of the principal Democrats in the party. They have been misled and are disgusted. I hang on to the word.

Star. Who would they support?

F. I believe they would support any man, no matter if he is a Republican—Grant, Sherman or anybody else—if confident he would assume a just course towards the South and give the whole country quiet and rest. Politics is a bad game they believe. They do not think that the support of anybody in the Democratic party—anybody sufficiently prominent to be a candidate—can do any good or bring peace and quiet; that's what they want. Under mismanagement they have come to the conclusion that it would be much better to support any man calculated to bring about such a condition than any Democrat, for they do not believe that any Democrat can do it.

Star. I am to understand, then, that your people are becoming Republicans?

F. No, you are not. You are simply to understand that our people are disgusted.

A Mother's Anguish.

A stylish dressed woman was taken into the Forty-seventh street police station in New York recently. She was very drunk, and her silk dress was rumpled. Her mother came looking for her an hour later.

"Can't I see her?" she said.

"She's too drunk to speak," said the Sergeant.

"What shall I do?" the mother cried despairingly. "I must see her."

"Can't be done."

The aged mother burst into tears, and leaned on the shoulder of a man who was with her.

"This is awful," she said "Oh dear!"

"Don't take on so," said the Sergeant. "You will see her in the morning."

"It isn't that," the mother replied; "she's all right. It's the silk dress I'm troubled about. She'll tear it all to pieces before morning."

"Speaking of coughing," says Mrs. Partington, "some will cough till their face gets black and blue and never think of buying a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

A LEADVILLE MARRIAGE.

MUST HAVE THE ORTHODOX CEREMONY---PISTOLS.

"This Painful Immorality on the Part of the Clergy Must be Checked."

New York Times.

There is no doubt that the pastor of St. George's Church, Leadville, belongs to the Church Militant. He has just proved it beyond contradiction, and at this moment public sentiment in Leadville pronounces him the ablest and most powerful clergyman for his weight in the United States, while a committee of leading citizens is about to present him with a silver mounted revolver as a testimony of respect and admiration.

The Rev. Mr. Withers earned this reputation a few weeks ago while engaged in marrying the well known Mr. Roaring Bull to one of the most beautiful and accomplished daughters of Leadville. The bridegroom was a man of excellent reputation, having killed three men in hand-to-hand fights and wounded a number of others. He was not accompanied to the altar by any groomsman, and the bride was similarly devoid of bridesmaids, though their place was to some extent taken by her three brothers. Mr. Withers, who up to that time had been known as an extremely peaceable man, and was not supposed to have a particle of fighting ability about him, had been warned that the bridegroom was very quick-tempered and exceedingly jealous, and that he would do well to "ladle out the service pretty considerable mild." To this warning, however, he paid no attention, being determined to do his duty, no matter what the consequences might be.

The service proceeded smoothly until the clergyman reached the point where he asked the bridegroom if he took the "woman' to be his wedded wife. To this Mr. Roaring Bill replied by remarking that he was about to marry a "lady," and that any man who called her a "woman" must be remarkably anxious to incur the expense of a personal funeral. Paying no attention to this remark, the clergyman proceeded, and inquired if the bridegroom would promise to love, cherish and protect the bride. This was regarded by Mr. Roaring Bill in the light of an unnecessary asking of foolish questions. "In course I do," he replied; what do you take me for? Do you mean to insinuate that I am a playin' it onto her? I want you to understand that this hyer's a square deal, and if you don't just go ahead with your marryin' and drop this asking of impertinent questions, it'll lead to difficulties. You hear me." Still the courageous clergyman, heedless of the brewing storm, ignored the bridegroom's interruptions, and read the service with cool and steady courage. Presently, he inquired ot the bride if she would promise to love, honor and obey her husband. At this point the latter drew his revolver and informed the clergyman that he was fast ripening for the grave. "Any more personal questions will require me to answer with this hyer weapon. I don't wish to make a row in a church, but if you will have one, just continue as you have begun. I'm a peaceable, long-sufferin' man, but the holiest feelin's of this lady's heart isn't goin' to be pried into by no man without he hears from me."

Still the clergyman pursued the even tenor of his way. One might have imagined that he was deaf, so utterly heedless was he of the irregular responses made by the bridegroom. The spectators who had assembled to witness the ceremony were making bets freely as to whether Mr. Bill would kill him at the first fire or whether he would merely mark him with a bullet for future identification. Contrary to the general anticipation, the bridegroom made no further interruption, either by word or bullet, and the ceremony came to an end. All might have ended peaceably had not Mr. Withers, determined to do his whole duty, supplemented the ceremony by kissing the bride.

The first bullet missed its mark, and the bridegroom, while pausing to adjust his aim, remarked that "this painful immortality on the part of the clergy must be checked." Just as he was about to fire the second shot—having got the clergyman's right ear in line—the brother of the bride sprang on him and toook away his pistol. At the same moment Mr. Withers tore off his surplice, and leaping over the railing struck out at Mr. Roaring Bill in a most beautiful and scientific way.

A ring was immediately formed. The bride climbed on the baptismal font and alternately encouraged each combatant with such inspirring remarks as, "Now, then, bill, bust him in the eye," or, "Hooray, Parson, the eyes of the Church is on you! Back up your religion like a little man!" The eager spectators swarmed into the church and fought for good positions in the pulpit. The betting at first was on the bridegroom, but at the end of ten minutes large odds were offered on the clergyman. His courage was undoubted, and his pugilistic skill was simply astounding. His adversary scarcely touched him, while the clergyman danced around him, now closing an eye and now shaking the foundations of his teeth with a smiling confidence that created the wildest enthusiasm. In twenty minutes and five rounds he had reduced his man to perfect helplessness. Mr. Roaring Bill cried "enough," the spectators cheered, and the bride, descending from her perch, kissed the clergyman with hearty frankness, and informed him that she should never allow any husband of hers to come between her and her religion.

Such was the public enthusiasm in Leadville over the clergyman's victory that no less than thirty leading citizens came forward and offered to be confirmed as an evidence of their good will, provided the rector would refrain from interfering with card-playing and other usual Sunday recreations. As has been said, the admiration of Leadville is about to be expressed in silver-mounted pistols, and there is no doubt the prosperity of St. George's Church and the popularity of Mr. Withers are fully assured.

Humbugged Again.

I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife who was always doctoring, and never well, teased me so urgently to get her some, I concluded to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months use of the Bitters my wife was cured and she has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T., St. Paul.

A Spirit With a Bloody Nose.

A young man from Rutland attended a seance at Spirit Valley recently. He sat in a circle around a table joined by holding hands in the usual form. The lights were turned down. Presently he felt something very like a human hand playfully fondling his ears and nose. He attempted to withdraw his own hands from those of his companion for the purpose of investigating, but failed in his attempt. Finally the "spirit hand" began carressing his knee, and he elevated his foot with so much suddeness as to bring futher manifestations to a close. When the lights were turned on it was discovered that the medium was bleeding at the nose, which organ had come in contact with the young man's boot.

A LIVELY HONEYMOON.

"Went Out with the Boys," and that's all he Knew About It.

N. Y. Star.

Hubert Kelly, a tolerably good-looking fellow, with a half-dozen scratches across his face, was in the Jefferson Market Court yesterday to answer officer Brenna's charge of intoxication.

"What have you to say to the charge?" asked Justice Flammer.

"The fact is your Honor," replied Hubert, "the boys just found out last night that I was married a couple of weeks ago, and I had to treat the whole party——"

Magistrate (interrupting)—Well after you had treated the party, what then?

Kelly—I can't tell, your Honor, how I came into the officer's hands. He got hold of me some how or another, I suppose, I don't recollect much about it after leaving the boys.

Magistrate—I shall have to fine you ten dollars.

Kelly—(fumbling in his pockets)—Oh, I haven't got as much as that left out of my wages.

Magistrate—Well, how much can you afford?

Kelly—About $5.

Magistrate—Well, I'll make the fine $5. Will that be satisfactory?

Kelly—Yes, sir.

Magistrate—Well, you are fined $5 and you can charge it to your honeymoon expenses, for you don't seem to have got to the end of them yet.

Hubert smiled, but paid.

ANOTHER ACCIDENET.

Thirty-one Persons Drowned.

SACKETT'S HARBOR, Nov. 18,—The steam tug Seymour, of Ogdensburg, left Cape Vincent yesterday at noon with a tow consisting of three dredges two derricks, seven scows, owned by Eckler & Arnald, of Buffalo. They had fine weather until after passing Gallop Islands off Sackett's Harbor, when a gale from the north-east with a heavy snow storm set in, the tug and tow got within five or six miles from Oswego when they lost their lights. The tug turned around and endeavored to hold fleet until day light, but the fleet broke away and was lost with all hands except six who were rescued by a tug. Thirty-one persons, including three women and one girl were drowned. The fleet is a total loss.

MISS SICKLES' ELOPEMENT.

The Daughter of the General Runs Away With an Englishman.

Certain persons in New York have, according to the New York Star, received private telegrams from Paris conveying the intelligence that Miss Sickles, the only child of Daniel E. Sickles, late United States Minister to Spain, has eloped with an Englishman named McCarthy, the pair having fled to London. Miss Sickles is about 26 years of age, and is highly accomplished. It appears that her acquaintance with McCarthy had its origin several months ago, while she was living in Paris with her step-mother and two step-sisters, and that the affair culminated when General Sickles arrived in the French capital a short time ago for the purpose of bringing his family home to New York. McCarthy is said to have a wife now living, and his social connections are very flimsy, indeed. On the escapade becoming known, after the first shock of surprise General Sickles immediately formed a resolution to pursue the pair. He left for London, but on reaching that city all trace of the fugitives was lost. Securing the services of detectives, the father succeeded in discovering them and swore out a complaint and had them arrested. As might be expected, the affair has created quite a sensation in American circles, both in Paris and at the English capital, where the lady was well known in society.

How a Turk Hit Back.

London World, 5.

At a dinner party in St. Petersburg, at which the Turkish Ambassador was present, the conversation turned on the social morality of different nations, and a young diplomatist rashly ventured a pleasantry on the subject of Turkish barems. The ire of the Ottoman representative was immediately aroused and dumfounded the company by a tirade against Christian immorality in general. In conclusion he said, with a bluntness which does not bear literal translation: I have four wives and I have never paid attentions to any other females. Which of the company dares tell me that his relations with the fair sex have been similarly restructed?" Some rather noted Lovelaces who were present with their spouses felt a little awkward.

Recovering.

That the South is recovering from the war is shown by her railroad statistics for 1868 and 1878. In those ten years the railroads of five Southern States—Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Virginia and Missouri—increased from 6781 miles to 12,688 or nearly 100 per cent.

The Health of Prince Bismarck.

The organic complaint from which Prince Bismarck is suffering is said to be an incipient stage of fatty degeneration of the heart, as yet but slighly developed. There is no immediate cause for apprehension.

Announcement is made in the December Scribner of the early publication by Scribner & Co. of a "Portfolio of Proof Impressions" from their two magazines, containing one hundred of the best cuts, printed slowly, and with the greatest care, during the past summer. These pictures are mounted for framing, and the volume is to have handsome binding and design This publication is made in response to repeated requests for single proofs of cuts in the two magazines, and the collection may fairly be considered representative of the best wood engraving of America and hence of the world.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

GRANT, NEW YORK AND THE SOUTHERN STATES.

Political Ruminations---The Attitude of New York and the South---The Grant "Electric" Boom.

Baltimore Sun.

It has been an open secret in Washington since the New York election that many Republican leaders appreciated the hollowness of their apparent triumph in the "pivotal State" in next year's contest, and saw the necessity of looking elsewhere for compensating strength. The united vote of Kelly and Robertson leaves no ground for debate or speculation as to the attitude of New York next year with Bayard or any other Democratic candidate thoroughly acceptable to the commercial interests of the East. Said a Democratic politician of well-known astuteness the other day: "The Republican assault upon the Democratic citadel of New York leaves their party in a position like that of Lee's army after Pickett's repulse in his charge on Cemetery Hill. They have met with a bloody repulse in an effort to carry a position essential to their success. Everybody knew on that hot July day at Gettysburg that the Confederacy had reached its climacteric. Lee still had left a compact and prurient force of forty thousand men, but it was plain that all their unnumbered victories for three years nearly were fruitless triumphs in the face of their overthrow upon a field that both sides had accepted as decisive. So as to New York: of what account is sixty thousand Republican majority in Pennsylvania, forty thousand in Iowa, or twenty-five thousand plurality in Ohio, so long as they are powerless to carry either New York or Indiana?" Where, then, is the Republican opportunity to gain new territory? They think in the South.

Encouraged by delusive indications of Democratic dissensions in the South, it is really true that the Republican leaders are meditating an active campaign throughout that whole section, and are already engaged in plans to carry several Southern States. How deluded they are is plainly revealed by the actual situation in the South. In no Southern State are there serious menances of schisms or mutiny. Just now the Republicans take great comfort from a letter recently written by Congressman Felton, of Georgia, and from some interesting gossip by ex-Chief Justice Lochrane, of the same State. Leading Republican newspapers are actually felicitating themselves upon the fact that a gentleman who was chief justice of Georgia in the days of Bullock, and who was an avowed supporter of Grant throughout his two terms, now talks kindly of General Grant, and thinks his election to the Presidency would be a good thing for the South. They derive comfort, too, from a captious letter from Dr, Felton, who has been three times elected to Congress by receiving the solid Republican vote, reinforced by disaffected Democrats whose party allegiance had grown slack by means of defective leadership in a district which never ought to have been lost by the party nominee. He has always been very bitter anti-Tilden and an intense greenbacker, positions that his letter reaffirm. A close examination of the Georgia press, and of the positions of the Georgia Democratic leaders leaves no room for serious rupture among the Democrats there. The same is true of every Southern State. Merely local dissensions are evidently mistaken by the Republican leaders and newspapers as augaries of revolt against the National Democratic organization. It is not the first time that they have misjudged the temper of the Southern people in matters involving their serious convictions of duty to themselves and the country.

While this is believed to be the exact political situation as it at present appears, and while it is thus recognized by some of the politicians here who are working the Grant movement, it is still claimed by them that certain contingencies may arise which will entirely reverse the situation, not only as regards the South, but as regards New York. Within the last few days conferences have been held in this city by certain friends of General Grant, including some who are known to possess his personal confidence. The suggestion was made that the whole country would be electrified if General Grant was promptly brought out as a candidate for the Presidency, not of a political convention, but as a non-partisan in every sense of the term; as the candidate of the people both of the South and North. It was argued that if this was done at once, and the boom started properly on its way, the refrain would be promptly taken up, and when the conventions of the two political parties came together the force of the public opinion in favor of Gould have gathered such weight that they would find nothing left for them but to dissolve at once without action or else to nominate Grant by acclamation. It may not be doubted that such a programme as this would meet entire sanction from General Grant if he should once be satisfied that it could be successfully executed. That is the question. It is considered as settled, and this is thoroughly understood by General Grant's friends here, that his candidacy in any event, whether partisan or non-partisan, will depend upon his own judgment and confidence in the certainty of his election.

Mrs. Person's Scrofula Remedy.

Among the many new testimonials as to the virtue of Mrs. Joe Person's celebrated Scrofula Medicine which we advertise elsewhere in this paper, we take pleasure in copying the following letter just received by Mrs. Person, from a prominent citizen of Freemont, N. C.:

"Mrs. Joe Person, Franklinton, N. C., Madam:

My little boy, who is now about three and a half years of age has, since Sept., 1878, been suffering with Scrofula. I secured the aid of one of our best physicians, who treated him about six months, and the child continued to grow worse all the time. About four weeks ago, I procured a bottle of your Bitters, and have been using it in connection with the powders furnished to make the Wash, and I am now proud to say, that after one week's use of the medicine, he began to improve, and has continued to do so until he seems to be almost entirely well. I am very grateful to you for what your Remedy has done for my child, and take great pleasure in saying I am satisfied you have found a certain and speedy cure for this dreadful disease. Please send me one bottle of your Bitters, which I think will be sufficient to effect a final cure of my child.

Yours, respectfully,
C. D. ALDRIDGE."

DAILY NEWS

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19,

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THE Milwaukee News takes the death of Zach Chandler as a text from an article on the sudden death of eminent men. The list given by the News is certainly interesting, and shows industrious research in the pages of the American Encyclopedia. But it does not go to prove that men who have attained eminence are prone to die suddenly, The instances quoted are exceptional, and no ambitious young man need be deterred from endeavoring to climb the heights of fame by dread of sudden death.

THE problem of how to supply an American city with all the water its inhabitants may choose to use or waste, is again presented for solution in New York. The consumption in that city reaches nearly one hundred gallons a day for each of its inhabitants, or an aggregate of one hundred million gallons of water per diem. The newspapers are warning the New Yorkers that no possible supply can meet this rate of consumption, or of waste. We doubt if, under the English system, one hundred million gallons of water are supplied daily to the City of London, with a population nearly four times that of New York. In American cities the consumption increases in a ratio far in excess of the increase in population. The population of Brooklyn is about half that of New York, but the average daily consumption of water in this city is still within 35,000,000 gallons daily, or not much more than one-third that of New York.

THE END OF THE WORLD.

There was no wreck of matter and crash of worlds on Friday, according to prediction. Evidently some one had blundered. The end of the world was, in some respects, a consummation devoutly to be wished; it would have settled the Eastern question and allowed the combatting diplomatist to meet on the only common ground they are ever likely to find; it would have effectually forminated lagging canvasses of the State vote and prevented the whistling of "Pinafore" in the public streets. It would have saved thousands of pedestrians from slipping at pasty street crossings, for those who went to walk the golding streets would find everything as it should be, while emigrants to the other place would be sure of an atmosphere that is ruinous to moistnre under foot or anywhere else.

The probable price of winter coal would have ceased to excite the public mind in the presence of other burning interests, and many pulpit warnings that will be sounded to-day would have been entirely unnecessary. Then, oh, rapturous thought! our hard-worked, self-sacrificing politicians would not be compelled to provide a President in 1880 and consume valuable newspaper columns that are sorely needed for the news of the day. All the greenbacks would have been burned up without the wearisome preliminary of a Congressional squabble. The Denis Cooper's case would have reached a court of final appeal, in which Denis himself might have expressed his views about a matter so intimately conerning himself.

No more poisoning cases would occur, the Republican machine would be put where it would do the most good, the breach in the city Democracy would be permanently closed and the braves could have a reunion that in warmth would beat anything on record. Finally the committee could get rid of the policeman's club and the street cleaning bureau, for the former would quickly be burned, even if smuggled into the next world, while the latter might meet ideal retribution for their misdeeds by being everlastingly surrounded by ashes, with no water at hand to dump them into.

"Getting in Motion for 1880.

Subjoined we give an extract from the Washington Republican purporting to be a correspondence from Halifax, N. C. We publish it for what it is worth—quite a curiosity.

HALIFAX, N. C., Nov. 14, 1879.

To the Editor of the National Republican.

SIR: The Old North State is preparing for the contest of 1880. The Republicans of this place held a large enthusiastic meeting in the court house last night for the purpose of bringing about reaction in the party and to reclaim by a handsome majority in 1880 that which was fraudulently taken from us in 1876. Every one present manifested a deep interest in the object of the meeting, which was decidedly the most harmonious I have ever witnessed. All good Republicans are intent on maintaining harmony and unity of action in the party, by which we hope to present a solid front and give to the nominees of our party a majority, to which they are justly entitled, in the coming campaign, and trust that the name of U. S. Grant may adorn the National ticket.

Yours,
REPUBLICAN.

The Patronage of the Governor of New York.

The following are the State appointments which Mr. Cornell, as Governor, will be entitled to make, all with the approval of the Senate:

Superintendent of Public Works, at $6,000 a year, to hold during term of Governor who appoints, and three assistant superintendents at $3,000 a year.

Superintendent of State Prirons, at $6,000 a year. Pillsbury's term is for five years.

Auditor of the Canal Department, with a salary of $5,000 a year.

Three Canal Appraisers, at salaries of $3,500.

A Superintendent of Insurance. The salary is $5,000.

Superintendent of the Bank Department. H. L. Lamb, Republican, is now in charge, at a salary of $5,000.

The Adjutant General, at a salary of $6,000 a year.

Three State Assessors, at $2,500 each.

Three Quarantine Commissioners, at $4,000 each.

A Health Officer in New York at about $ 5,000 a year.

A Captain of the Port at about $5000, and eleven Harbor Masters with fees reaching $4000.

Ten Port Wardens, with about the same salary.

A State Commissioner in Lunacy, salary $5000.

An Inspector of Gas Meters in New York city, salary $2500.

The Superintendent of the Onondaga Salt Springs at $2800 year.

Also clerks for all the above officials. The clerk hire averages from $20,000 to $50,000 a year for the several offices.

The Late Greenback Party.

Washington Post.

Last year the Greenback party polled 2,750 votes in Colorado; this year it lost 75 per cent. of these.

Last year in Connecticut it cast 8,314 votes; this year the party has not been heard from there.

Last year in Iowa it fused with the Democrats, and the two parties together cast 125,000 votes, from which subtracting the 75,000 Democratic votes, left the Greenback strength at 50,000; this year, with the total vote in the State increased 45,000, it polled 45,000 votes only, which is equal to a loss of 15,000 or 20,000.

In Maine last year it polled 41,000 votes; in Maine this year it polled 56,000, a gain of 15,000.

No comparison can be made between the votes of this party in Massachusetts in 1878 and 1879, on account of the Butler Democratic vote being entirely mixed in with the total vote that Gen. Butler received.

Last year in Mississippi it polled 12,000 votes; this year it has only been heard from in that State in a scattering way.

Last year in New York it polled 75,000 votes; this year less than 10,000.

Last year in Ohio it polled 38,000 votes, this year about 11,000.

Last year in Pennsylvania it polled 81,000 votes; this year some 15,000.

Last year in Wisconsin it polled 30,000 votes this year none at all.

The question is, what has become of the Greenback party? We think it is dead.

Then and Now.

In 1864, 520 barrels of pork would pay President Lincoln's salary for one year. In 1879 it takes 4,761 barrels of pork to pay President Hayes' salary one year.

In 1865 it took 7,200,900 barrels of flour to pay 6 per cent. interest on the public debt of $2,000,000,000.

In 1879 it takes 13,333,333 barrels of flour to pay 4 per cent. on the same debt.

In 1865 it took 833 bushels of corn to pay a mortgage of $1,000. In 1879 it takes 2,499 bushels to pay the same debt.

In 1866, after the war, 1,000 pounds of cotton would pay $500 rent for a plantation. In 1879 it takes 7,143 pounds to pay the same rent.

Interesting Statistics.

The total sum contributed by the people to pay to the Government's obligations and to meet current expenses, since the year 1865, amounts to the enormous sum of $5,107,888,823.

The total sum paid to the Government since its foundation, during a period of seventy-seven years prior to the war, amounted to but $2,052,680,518.

The average annual cost of the Government to the people before the war was $26,671,306.

The average cost since has been $374,849,204 per year.

The cost of running the Government for the year 1861 was 1.30 per capita of the whole population.

The cost of running the government per capita for the last twelve years since the war has been $9.10 per annum.

The interest bearing public debt in 1865 was $2,221,311,918, including legal tender treasury notes.

Amount of interest bearing public debt June, 1879, was $1,976,414,700.

Amount of interest bearing legal tender treasury notes retired since 1865, $86,006,950.

Increase of coin bonded debt since the war, 1865, $947,715,700.

Speaker Randall and Gen. Thomas.

General McCook, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements on the unveiling of the statute of General Thomas, in inviting Speaker Randall, writes "that this invitation is extended not only on account of your official position, but because the records of the War Department show that you were one of the first, while serving as a private soldier under General Thomas, to call the attention of the authorities in Washington to his merits as a commander, Items and Extracts From the State Press.

Salem Press: Musk-rats are quite troublesome on the mill race banks. A few days since the meadows were flooded with water, caused by these burrowing rats. Here is a trapping field for the boys, as the fur of this animal brings fair prices. We hear of depredations by minks on farmers' henroosts. Trapping for fur-bearing animals may be made to pay if the skins are well cured.

Pee Dee Herald: A Miss Hillyard, of Lexington, N. C., has sued a young man by the named of Hargrave for breach-of-promise, and lays the damages at $30,000. The large gin house belonging to the estates of John L. Wall, deceased, with about ten bales of cotton, was burned on Thursday night last, at about 8 o'clock. No insurance. A heavy loss to widow of the deceased.

Winston Republican: Some of our citizens in this neighborhood are realizing well by the sale of hickory to the Spoke and Handle Factory of Greensboro. We understand that they get $3 a cord for the wood, standing, which is then cut down and hauled to the depot, where, on the rising ground in front of Reed's handsome new store, a number of colored hands are engaged in cutting it into proper lengths. It is quite a busy scene.

Winston Sentinel: Salem has two bands of music. The ancient burg stands unrivaled in a musical point of view.

Among the large number of horses quartered here at a livery stable is the most ponderous piece of horse flesh we have ever seen. The animal is of an iron gray color, measures six feet in height, and was bred and raised in Tennessee.

Concord Register: General T. L. Clingman was in town Thursday, the guest of J. C. Gibson, Esq. The General is looking well. He is en route for Washington and New York.—Reports from Norwood, Stanley county, indicate great inconvenience from the protracted drouth. Wells and springs in that vicinity have gone dry. Some places they have to haul water for three miles. Friends from Stanly and Union counties say that wells and water courses have gone dry in some localities, they have to haul water from one to three miles for house use, and to water stock. What a God-send a good rain would be.

Another Southern Outrage.

Columbus (Ga.) Times.

A correspondent of the Times informs us that three men and brethren, two white and one colored, surrounded a flock of wild geese while out hunting a day or two ago. The plan of attack was for the three huntsmen to approach the game from different sides. When within thirty yards of the geese they took alarm and flew, and as they did so three guns were discharged at them. The geeese flew off unharmed, but the colored member did not escape so easily. He received in his face a portion of the load of the huntsman opposite him and lost some blood thereby. He declared he did not mind the wound, however except for one thing, and that was he was shot in the face before he had a chance to fire his second barrel at the retreating fowls.

The Next Astley Belt Walk.

Latest news from London states that the next contest for the Astley Belt shall be in Agricultural Hall, Islington, London, Rowell to name the date. It is understood that Rowell is anxious to have the match during the last week in January. The American challengers are Peter J. Panchot and Daniel O'Leary. Both issued a challenge and claim the right to sign articles with Rowell. O'Leary claims the preference, and Sir John Astley will decide whether Rowell shall enter into an agreement with O'Leary or with Panchot. O'Leary claims that he was the first challenger, and that according to the rules Rowell will be obliged to accept his challenge ahead of all others. Among the contestants will be Faber of Newark, N. J.; Weston, Ennis, Merritt, Guyon, Krohne, Murphy, Hazael and several English pedestrians. Prior to this contest will be the walk for the English Astley Belt that Blower Brown holds. Hazael and several others will compete.

Putting a Glass to His Blind Eye.

New York Nation.

The most notable part of Chandler's career was his Chairmanship of the Republican Committee during the last Presidential campaign, when he rendered his party a service, which none of the Republican papers now seems willing to acknowledge, in refusing to be cast down by "the face of the returns" on the morning after election. Everybody but he had apparently forgotten "the judicial functions" of the returning boards, and when he telegraphed to his agents to hold on to everything and wait for help, it was a stroke like that of Nelson at Copenhagen, when he put the glass to his blind eye, and failed to see the signal of recall.

Advance in Coal Prices.

The leading coal companies in New York will make an advance to-day of about twenty-five cents per ton. President Sloan states that prices are now less than at this time last year, and would probably advance further. The active demand in coal has been stimulated by the recent increase in prices, as consumers believed that rates would go still higher, and also by the fact that the close of the canal navigation is close at hand.

Death of a Prince.

Prince Almayon, son of the late King Theodore, of Abyssinia, who arrived in Leeds, England, a short time ago to pursue his studies, died last Friday morning of broncho-pleuro pneumonia. He was 19 years of age.

A World of Good.

One of the most popular medicines now before the American public, is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters, as it is not a whiskey drink. It is more like the old-fashioned bone set tea that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right, try Hop Bitters.—Nunda News.

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint.

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

A Singular Accident.

New York Star.

A singular accident happened to William McDonald, a well known Brooklyn politician, on Friday last. He had been spending a few days at Little Falls, N. J., and on the day in question he was returning from a gunning expedition, in company with his friend, Robert Stinson of Little Falls. Mr. McDonald's gun, which was loaded, was placed in the buggy, between the two gentlemen, the stock resting upon the floor. A young setter dog sat upon the seat. When Mr. McDonald's attention was attracted to some object by the roadside, the dog sprang suddenly from the seat and struck the trigger of the gun, discharging its contents (about one and a quarter ounces of No. 7 shot) into the fleshy part of Mr. McDonald's arm, making a painful and serious wound.

Jay Gould's Purchase of Missouri Pacific Railroad Stock.

Interviews at St. Louis with Oliver Garrison and Carlos Greely confirm the reported sale of Commodore C. K. Garrison's interest in the Missouri Pacific railroad to Jay Gould. It is understood that the interest purchased by Gould is between three-fourths and seven-eighths of the road and amounts to more than Mr. Garrison's stock. The entire stock of the road is only $800,000. It is stated in St. Louis that Jay Gould and associates have also purchased a controlling interest in the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad. Judge Baker, the vice-President, is known to have sold his stock, some 2,600 shares.

Grant on Exhibition In a Chicago Church.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Gen. Grant attended the Centinary Methodist Church, the leading Methodist church on the West side, this morning, accompanied by his son, Col. Fred. D. Grant, Gen. Mann and Mr. R. W. Smith. The church was so packed with people that there was scarcely breathing room. Gen. Grant and his escort had to be admitted by a side door to seats reserved for them. At the conclusion of the services, Gen. Grant was led to a side vestible near the door, where he shook hands with the whole congregation as they passed out.

A New Thing at Weddings.

London World.

It is becoming the fashion at distinguished weddings in Paris for pageboys to be substituted for bridesmaids. They are all dressed alike, mostly in red or blue velvet or satin, with silk stockings and gold buckles and for their business have to attend on the bride, carry her prayer-book and bouquet, support her train and veil and generally be at her bidding all the day. Young brothers or relatives under twelve years of age are usually selected for the office.

Edward Eggleston, author of that capital acting-play for children, "The House of Santa Claus," has written another stage-piece for boys and girls entitled "Mother Goose and her family; a Christmas Recreation for Sunday-school and other Festivals." It is to appear in St. Nicholas for December, the special Christmas Holiday number of that magazine, accompanied by costume-sketches and full instructions.

What They Say.

Rev. J. E. Rankin, D. D., of Washington, D. C., certifies of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure: "I do not doubt that it has great virtue." Rev. C. A. Harvey, D. D., Secretary of Howard University, certifies that for Bright's disease "no other remedy can be held for one moment in comparison with this." E. W. Neff, of Detroit, Mich., certifies that it completely cured him of a very serious chronic liver complaint. J. H. Sherlock, of Rochester, N. Y., certifies that it cured him of Bright's disease of several years' standing, and that he believes it to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. These are samples of hundreds of other testimonials.

Cuticura

FROM THE HON. WM. TAYLOR, STATE SENATOR OF MASSACHUSETTS.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—To say that I am grateful, is only a poor expression of my feelings, but it is the best word I can use, for I feel it in every sense of the word. I have been a great sufferer with skin diseases for the last twelve (12) years. My head and face being covered with sores, I could not rest with the burning heat and itching of the parts affected, and was confined to my house for weeks at a time. My disease has been called Eczema, of a most aggravated type, by many physicians, but I doubt if ever fully understood by any of them. It was more like a combination of several skin humors. I have spent much money seeking a cure, and in 1867 I went to Europe, and consulted some of the best physicians in London. I received temporary relief only, for in the spring it would break out again as bad as ever. When I came back to Boston, I was told by many friends that Dr. —— (whose reputation for the cure of those diseases was of the highest order) could cure me. I waited on the doctor; he prescribed for me. I followed his advice for six months, and I can safely say, without any improvement. I tried other physicians and among them Dr. ——, of East Boston, and Dr. ——, of city proper, but all to no purpose. They did me no good; their remedies were so ineffectual that at no time did I feel that a cure would result from them.

I have swallowed five hundred arsenic pills, 5.20 grain, and taken bottle after bottle of internal remedies, besides all the external applications I have used, but the effect was the same. I became satisfied that I could not be cured, but might be kept from getting worse.

Now, about three months ago, Mr. Meehan, a gentleman well known to Boston people, called my attention to your CUTICURA, and promised wonderful results if I would only make a trial. He told me of his own experience with it, and so persevered on me that I went with him to a drug store and bought two large boxes of CUTICURA, and some CUTICURA SOAP, and commenced to use it according to the directions. There was so much humor lodged within the skin, that as soon as I commenced the use of CUTICURA it came to the surface and festered, until vast quantities had come out and greatly intensified my sufferings for about two weeks. But I did not mind this, as I felt that I was going to get rid of the humor when I saw it coming to the surface in such large quantities. After the first two or three weeks' use of this remedy, I was greatly encouraged by a gradual lessening of the inflammation of a number of painful sores. I carefully, faithfully, and cheerfully followed the directions to the letter, feeling each week nearer a cure, until at the present moment, after three months' use of CUTICURA, and twelve years of as constant suffering as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record. I have been so elated with my success that I have stopped men on the street who were afflicted, and told them to get the CUTICURA and it would cure them. This is why I am so grateful to you, for I believe it to be the best and greatest discovery of the age, and that it will cure all who are suffering with these diseases. I may add that I took no internal medicine but the CUTICURA RESOLVENT.

WILLIAM TAYLOR.

Weather Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.

For the South Atlantic and Gulf States higher pressure, northerly winds and colder and clearer; partly cloudy weather preceded along the coast of former and in Florida by local rains.

Index to New Advertisements.

ALFRED WILLIAMS—Local notice.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Rain.

—"Unknown."

—Rentz-Santley.

—Lots of colored folks.

—Revenue receipts $561.80.

—Only four deaths last week.

—Mint's meat—gold and silver.

—Done with the pen—A dead pig.

—Everyone was glad to see the rain.

—Cold weather again—remember the poor.

—Don't forget that meteoric shower—d'ye hear?

—Three more marriage licenses issued yesterday.

—Sacred concert at Person Street Church to-morrow night.

—Mr. J. W. Purefoy, of the firm of Kelly, Purefoy & Brewer, is sick.

—Colonel Thomas M. Holt, Miss C. M. Holt and C. T. Holt are at the Yarboro.

—A young Raleighite will be married to-day in Greensboro to a young lady of that place.

—If you do not want to be robbed of your good name, don't have it printed on your umbrella.

—Seventeen thousand five hundred dollars of old bonds received for exchange at the State treasury yesterday.

—There will be a meeting of the Hesperian Club this afternoon at three o'clock at the American Hotel (old Standard building.)

—Governor Jarvis formally opened the colored folk fair yesterday. It rained nearly all day, and was very disagreeable. It is hoped that the weather will be better to-day.

—Don't forget that there will be a sacred concert at the Person street church to-morrow night for the benefit of the church. Every body should go. Spend a pleasant evening and aid a worthy cause.

—The following houses have taken out drummers' licenses: Carr Brothers & Co., Baltimore; Johnson & Sutton, Baltimore; Landerson & Peters, Norfolk; Frank & Adler, Baltimore; Dinsmore & Kyle, Baltimore; Ives, Murphy & Boner, Norfolk.

—A young man last night informed the reporter that he had just heard dummy Harwood talking about a negro being cut by another negro at the Fair grounds late yesterday afternoon. The young man has Irish blood in his veins, and is probably excusable for this "bull" he unwittingly made.

—The Petersburg Index-Appeal says: "Rev. Dr. Skinner, pastor of the First Baptiat church in Raleigh, N. C., lately received from Mr. Pierre Lorrilard, in New York, a present of a box containing $1,000 cigars, worth $1 each and a $1.000 note. Mrs. Skinner is a cousin of Mr. Lorrilard.

—The colored peoples' procession formed in front of the Yarboro yesterday morning at eleven o'clock and escorted Governor Jarvis to their grounds. They made a very creditable appearance. Four military companies, two fire companies, marshals, carriages, &c., composed the procession.

—"Well, Jeremiah," said his Honor the mayor, "You are charged with being drunk and down—what sayest thou to the charge?" "Dat it am de God's truf'e boss. You see sah, I cum up ter visit de culled folk's fair, sah, and I kinder 'bibed too much." He'll be on hand again to-day, probably "drunk again."

—"Well Jeremiah" said His Honor the Mayor, "you are charged with being drunk and down—what sayest thou to the charge?" "Dat it am de God's truf'e boss. You see, sah, I cum up ter visit the cullud foke's fair, sah, and I kinder bibed too much." He was allowed twelve hours to cool off. He'll be on hand though again to-day—probably "drunk again."

—They had come to the fair, and started out by getting "full up" with grog-alley pinetop. 'Twasn't long before they disagreed and began to jaw one another. "Yoo mus' tink, nigger, you owns dis town. Cum hear frum de back woods an' poot on airs to me as is a city darky, tororbred; now you jes lay low sah." The other "backwoods" darkey was rather sensitive, and followed this insult with a blow from his fist between the town darkey's eyes. "'Dustril fair de debil," he shouted, "I'll be 'dustrious nuff ter lick you"—and he did, by a large majority.

—That love-sick young man who has been writing poetry for us for the last two or three days, brought up another batch yesterday. It seems he has seen his girl again, and that the interview did not terminate so pleasantly aslast Sunday. Poor Charles! We sympathise with you. Here's his latest:

Oh, what a thing is love!
It cometh from above;
And lighteth like a dove
On some.
But some it never hits,
Except to give them fits,
And take away their wits—
Oh, hum!

Diaries for 1880.

If you have never kept a Diary, try it next year and you will find both a pleasure and benefit from it. Messrs. Alfred Williams & Co., to-day receive their stock of Diaries for 1880 and now is a good time to select one.

In Total Darkness.

Our good city was in total darkness last night. The moon was expected to shine for an hour and a half, but owing to dark clouds did not put in her appearance. No lamps were lighted, and those so unfortunate as to have to go out had to take the mud and water as best they could. Oh, for a meteoric shower!

Cotton.

The cotton market on yesterday was active and prices advanced. New York speculated very largely and fluctuations were heavy, closing twenty-three points higher than the day before. Our own market was 11⅞ to 11¼ cents, with some sales as high as 11½. Receipts about two hundred bales.

The Colored Folk's Industrial Fair.

The procession, headed by Stanleys colored band, and composed of the Raleigh colored fire companies, carriages and the following military companies: Raleigh Blues, East Raleigh Guards, Oberlin Vance Guards, and two companies from Wilmington and Newberne, moved up Fayetteville street at 11 o'clock a. m. Stopping in front of the Yarborough House the processions was joined by Governor Jarvis, Mayor Manly, Commissioner Polk and other prominent white invited guests.

After arriving at the grounds in the eastern portion of the city, the Governor formally opened the exhibition in a short, well-timed address, full of advice to the colored people. This is the first exhibition of the kind ever held in the world—a State Agricultural Fair by the colored people. The exhibition is very creditable and quite a number of people were on the grounds. The weather was very inclement and prevented many from attending. To-day they expect a large crowd and a huge time.

Great Favor.

Among ladies and gentlemen of refinement, Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes are in great favor. Having sweetness and durability, they are universal favorites among all lovers of perfumes. Try Dr. Price's Pet Rose for a handkerchief perfume, it is delightful.

Political Issues.

Kearney's advice to all parties is to "pool their issues." We think a good deal as he does, that we should bury the dead issues of the past. As a healing compound for all issues, sores, wounds &c., there is nothing equal to Henry's Carbolic Salve. Beware of counterfaits.

Practical Economy.

Before Patapsco Baking Powder was patented and placed on the market consumers had to pay 50 cents per pound for the old rut powders. You can now buy Patapsco for about one-half that amount and get a better article. This accounts for the popularity of Patapsco.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F. BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anamia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

Care in Selecting Food.

The first conditions of healthfulness are secured when care is taken in selecting the articles which enter into our daily food. Let all the articles used be as pure, wholesome and easy of digestion as Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, and we warrant that the health of the family will not be likely to suffer.

Do you suffer with neuralgia or headach? If so take Neuralgine and be relieved. Every bottle guaranteed to give satisfaction if taken according to directions. Hutchinson & Bros., Proprietors, 14 Whitehall street, Atlanta, Georgia. Sold by Pescud, Lee & Co., and William Simpson, Raleigh.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bapt.) It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney. LL. D., Col. Va. It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward P. E., Na. Conf. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen
